"EVERYBODY PLAY BALL."

THIS WILL BE THE GREAT GAME OF THE SEASON.

For Sweet Charity's Sake the Old Timers Will Show the League How to Play Ball.

There has been an unlimited amount of kicking at the kind of baseball put up by the League clubs during this season. To show the public what a really good ball game should, and how it used to be played when we were all young enough to take a hand in the game, the BULLETIN has conceived the project of getting up a game in which two nines composed of the old-time ball tossers of these Islands should take part, the entire proceeds thereof to be donated to charitable purposes.

With this object in hand Manager Finney started out among the old timers to see how many of the old players would be willing to assist the cause, and in a short time the following list of volunteers was obtained:

Harry Whitney
Antone Rosa
James G. Spencer
J. H. Fisher
Will Kinney
Lorrin A. Thurston
E. A. Jones
Jack Winter
James L. Torbert
A. E. Perry
J. M. Dowsett
Robert Parker
Fred M. Oat
Sam Levey
Dan Kamakauahoa
Hay Wodehouse
W. E. Wall
C. M. White
Dr. Grossman
Maurice Keohokaloie
W. F. Allen
Willie Lucas
Henry Kaia
J. B. Castle
Geo. Markham
M. P. Robinson
Geo. Lucas
Albert Lucas
George Desha
Tom Cummins

On Monday morning Messrs. E. A. Jones and Fred M. Oat will select two nines from the above and they will both at once commence practicing. The game will not be played for money or marbles but for blood in large quantities and there will be no danger of either side throwing away the game.

All of the gentlemen who have volunteered are good ball players, and even if some of them are getting a little obese and stiff they have not forgotten the first principles of the game, which is more than some members of the present League can say. There is every prospect that the game as an exhibition of baseball will be much superior to a majority of those played in the League series this season. It will be a case of "Everybody play ball."

John T. Waterhouse of the Queen street stores has generously donated all the cloth needed for suits for both teams.

Hackfeld & Co. kindly donate stockings to complete the costumes.

The proceeds of the game are to be distributed between the Young Men's Christian Association (gymnasium), the Honolulu Library and Reading Room, the British Benevolent Society, the American Relief Fund and the German Relief Society in such proportions as the public may determine by ballot.

Blank ballots will be printed in each issue of the BULLETIN on the fifth page. These are to be cut out and deposited in a sealed box in the BULLETIN office, the name of the society the voter wishes to have the most money being first written thereon. These ballots will be printed from day to day up to, but not including, the day of the game. This will either be Saturday, September 7th or 14th, and will depend on the outcome of tomorrow's game. If the Unknowns win tomorrow, it will be played on the 7th, as the League teams want two weeks for practice before playing the final game. If the Stars win tomorrow the game will be played on the 14th, which will give the old players plenty of time for practice.

The votes will be counted on the Monday following the game by a committee of five, consisting of a representative from each of the societies to be benefited and one from the BULLETIN. The society receiving the highest number of votes will be handed over one-half of the net proceeds of the game, the next highest will receive one quarter, the third highest one-eighth and the remaining one-eighth will be divided between the fourth and fifth in the proportion of three to two. Should the net proceeds of the game amount to $500, the societies would receive $250, $125, $62.50, $37.50 and $25 respectively according to the result of the ballot. In this the other one-twelfth. In this manner each of the societies named will receive something, and individual members of all of them have already expressed a determination to get in and work for the top notch. No votes will be counted until after the game is over, as it is not considered desirable to encourage voting in big blocks as is often done in similar contests elsewhere.

The umpires will be selected from the members of the League, and if they don't get a taste of their own medicine before the game is ended the writer is much mistaken.

The Association has generously donated the use of the grounds for the game and practice in the meantime.

Col. W. F. Allen will have charge of the sale of tickets, and will distribute them in prominent stores in town as soon as printed. They will be only 25 cents each, but every one is expected to purchase enough for his whole family, including his sisters, cousins and aunts.

The Death on the Bennington.

The death from cholera on the Bennington of the young American apprentice named Conlan or Colan, 22 or 23 years of age, has created some consternation in the city, as it is the first case in which a white man has been attacked since the disease made its appearance. The young man was taken sick in the night and died about 8 o'clock this morning. Shortly before his death Drs. Meyers and Day visited the ship and held a consultation with the ship's doctor. It was unanimously decided to be a case of cholera. Immediately after the man died the body was placed in a coffin and sent ashore in a shore boat and buried at the Makiki cemetery. Strenuous sanitary measures were at once adopted on board and no one is allowed to communicate with or leave the ship. The sailors have not been allowed on shore for fourteen days, with the exception of two who came off on duty yesterday afternoon for a short time. The officers, however, have been back and forth to the city as usual. There is not a word of truth in the report that two officers and two of the men were taken with the disease this morning.

EIGHT NEW CASES TODAY.

INFECTION TRACED TO WATERS OF LOWER NUUANU STREAM.

Two Deaths This Morning—One Iron Worker Taken—New Hospital Occupied.

While residents were in the midst of mutual congratulations over the supposed end of the cholera scare, yesterday evening the alarm circulated that two fresh cases had been discovered. This morning two deaths took place, although not of the cases reported yesterday evening. One was that of a bluejacket on board of the U. S. S. Bennington. The other was a native man named Kaehalii, who lived near the Kunawai springs on Nuuanu stream, far up Liliha street. This native died while being removed to the cholera hospital at Kakaako. He had been taken ill about 3 a.m.

This forenoon Von Hamm, a salesman at Hoffschlaeger & Co's, went home in a carriage, having been seized with severe stomach trouble. His illness is, however, attributed to indulgence in rich food at a party last night.

Four patients were in the hospital at 2 p. m., and a fifth was on his way thither. One is a Swede who worked in the Honolulu Iron Works. About the same hour another case was reported, making the eighth of this fresh outbreak.

Dr. Day, assisted by Arthur Johnstone, an amateur microscopist, has been making investigations of the water in Nuuanu stream. The doctor declares the stream infected from Waterhouse's place down.

Andrew Brown, Superintendent of Water Works, is flushing the stream from the reservoirs. An effort will be made to disinfect all the pools along the stream.

The Board of Health has prohibited the sale of fresh fish. It has also ordered the closing of all the poi shops in the area bounded by the harbor, Judd street, Nuuanu street and Liliha street.

All cases are taken to the cholera hospital at the old immigration station. Residents of the locality are leaving in alarm. Mrs. Reist has abandoned the Aloha Bath House.

Owing to fear of infection in the harbor from Nuuanu stream, the boat clubs have ceased their practice for the regatta.

Strong comment is heard on all sides upon the transportation of the dead body of the Bennington sailor ashore in a passenger boat, the New York, and its conveyance from the landing to the Makiki cemetery in a licensed hack.

Leading citizens are loudly calling for a conference of the Board of Health with the older physicians, such as Doctors McGrew, McKibbin, Stangenwald and Brodie. In case of sickness in the families of the complainants, they want their physicians to know just what disease they are treating.

The New Opera House.

Bids for the construction of the new Opera House were opened yesterday afternoon as follows: W. Wagner, $26,680; Lucas Bros. $19,712; A. Harr son, $18,798 and G. W. Lincoln $16,595. As the bids were not uniform as to the amount and character of the work to be done, no award will be made for a short time.
